Thank you, Kevin, for all parts of your message! Yes, the attachment to my email below (reattached here) is indeed the version that the Panel recommends and that Francesca accepts.

I understand your email to say that you are comfortable with the analysis and tone of this April 26 version.

Hi Carol Ann- I held off sending this over the weekend so you would not work on your time away. If the attachment was the actual response, I would be fine (and even good). There is a tonal and directional difference that I think better captures the scenario at hand. Any chance that the attachment becomes the response rather than what was originally proposed? Thanks, Kevin

Ex. 5 - Deliberative Process

I have consulted the Scientific Integrity Panel (Betsy Shaw, Kevin Teichman and Bruce Rodan), and they agree both with the analysis and with the attached draft.

I hope this helps. I'll monitor my emails on this matter, so please feel free to pose any questions you wish by phone or email. Or we can wait until Monday. Francesca is aware of our efforts and is comfortable with taking the time to get it right.
